DETAILED ACTION

Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.
2. This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.
3. In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-10, drawn to an attractant composition for adult noctuid or other lepidopteran species comprising a mixture of about 10-45% by weight of phenylacetaldehyde, 5-30% by weight of anethole, 0-30% by weight of 4-methoxy benzyl alcohol and 0-30% by weight of 2-methoxy benzyl alcohol.

Group II, claim(s) 11-22, drawn to an attractant and kill composition for adult noctuid or other lepidopteran species including 0.—3.0% by weight attractant composition of claim 1, further comprising a pesticide and the remainder of the attractant and kill composition comprising other components including a liquid or solid carrier.

4. The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

5. The Groups fail to possess a special technical feature as a composition comprising 20% phenylacetaldehyde and 20% anethole is disclosed the art. See Example 1, Table 1 of Metcalf et al. (US 4880624). Metcalf is directed to volatile attractants for Diabrotica species. One would have been motivated to use such a composition for attracting noctuid species with a reasonable expectation for success because Lopez et al. (US 6074634) teaches that noctuid species are attracted to phenylacetaldehyde. Metcalfs compositions would necessarily attract noctuid species. Therefore, as it would have been within the purview to a person ordinary skilled in the art to arrive at the instantly claimed invention, the inventions lack unity.

6. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

7. The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

8. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

9. Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Election of Species

10. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

11. The species are as follows:

- A) Attractant (see claims 2-10)
 - If Applicant elects Group I, then Applicant is required to elect a single species recited as a ‘further’ component in claims 2-10 which includes species such as caryophyllene, 4-methoxy-2-phenethanol, Z-3- hexenyl salicylate, anethol, 4-methoxybenzyl alcohol or 2-methoxybenzyl alcohol.
- B) Excipient (see claims 12-22)
 - If Applicant elects Group II, then Applicant is required to elect a single excipient species recited in claims 12-22 which includes sugar, humectant, thickener, emulsifiers, antioxidants, Preservatives, film forming polymers, sunlight stabilizers, shellac, wax or a liquid carrier.

12. Examination of the above species would impose a search burden upon the Examiner. Each of the above species is distinct from one another and would result in compositions with different chemical properties. Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

13. Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

14. The following claim(s) are generic: 1 and 11.

15. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the reasons discussed above.

Correction of Inventorship

16. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
